

A 20x20 grid of black dots on a white background. The dots are arranged in a sparse, irregular pattern, with some clusters and many empty spaces. The overall shape is roughly rectangular, with the dots concentrated more towards the center and edges. The pattern is not uniform, with some areas having a higher density of dots than others. The dots are small and black, and the background is white. The grid is 20 units wide and 20 units high.
