

[illegible]

A large grid of 100 rows and 100 columns of black dots on a white background. The dots are arranged in a sparse, irregular pattern, with some rows having more dots than others. The dots are small and black, and the background is white. The pattern is not uniform, with some areas having more dots than others, creating a textured, almost abstract appearance. The dots are scattered across the entire grid, with some rows having more dots than others, and some columns having more dots than others. The overall effect is a complex, non-repeating arrangement of points in a square field.
