

A 10x10 grid of 100 small dot patterns. Each pattern is a 5x5 arrangement of dots, where the presence or absence of a dot at a specific position represents a binary digit (0 or 1). The patterns are arranged in rows and columns, with each row and column containing 10 unique patterns. The patterns are designed to be visually distinct from one another, allowing for easy identification of individual patterns within the grid.

• •

• • •

•

• •